Tennant Creek

for helping us build the Northern Gas Pipeline Project

Jemena has invested in Tennant Creek and the Barkly Region

The Northern Gas Pipeline (NGP) is a nation building project which was developed in partnership with local people, Jemena and its contractors relied on the local community and capability of many Aboriginal and local people and businesses in Tennant Creek, the Barkly Region and the broader Northern Territory. During the planning, construction and commissioning phases, between early 2016 and October 2018, Jemena has spent more than $15 million in the Barkly Region. This includes in civil contracting, trades, media, arts and entertainment, meals, catering and accommodation; cleaning, hire cars and car repairs; office fit outs, waste and recycling and much more.

Engaging with and supporting Tennant Creek and Barkly Region businesses

Jemena has worked hard to ensure local businesses knew of opportunities, undertaking a series of business briefings, attending conferences and expos, participating in the NTEDA’s October Business Month and directly engaging with local businesses.

More than 80 per cent of all contracts awarded by Jemena for the NGP were to NT and QLD businesses – with 30 per cent of all contracts awarded to businesses from the Barkly Region.

Working with Aboriginal people

Jemena developed the NGP in partnership with Aboriginal people, including on land and with their knowledge. Aboriginal people taught us about their culture, through training, and took up jobs, training and contracting opportunities.
